

This invention provides for compositions, which can be crosslinked by radiation to give elastomeric coatings, which comprises:

- (a) high-molecular weight siloxanes with multiple (meth)acrylate functional groups; and
- (b) reinforcing fillers selected from the group consisting of silicone resins and silicone dioxide fillers, wherein the siloxanes (a) have the general structure:

